

Cosmetic Biopuncture for Facial Rejuvenation

At some point most women seek a little help in turning back the hands of time. But who really wants to undergo a scary surgical procedure with a painful and lengthy downtime? Now you don't have to!

The facial lift technique is a unique approach in treating aging, sagging, and wrinkling of the skin involving the face and neck. It is a quick and safe alternative to invasive cosmetic procedures utilizing homeopathic solutions... all without any downtime or pain!

The Facial Lift treatments provided here helps diminish those aging wrinkles that inevitably pop up. This minimally invasive treatment delivers vitamins, minerals and amino acids directly into the skin to nourish and rejuvenate, promote production of collagen and elastin, and stimulate your metabolism. As your skin ages, circulation decreases, and the resulting reduction of oxygen and nutrients hinders your body's ability to flush out toxins. This is what drives premature aging and causes the skin to develop an ashen appearance. All of these things together will improve your skin tone and texture, and results are seen immediately after the first treatment. The procedure can also be used to tone and tighten sagging skin on the neck, legs, abdomen, and arms.*

The Technique

Our Facial Lift technique offers a healthy alternative to those chemical cosmetic fillers and intense skin treatments. After an initial consultation, a customized mix of homeopathic remedies, vitamins, minerals and amino acids and nutritional supplements (including multivitamins and non-linked hyaluronic acid) are inserted under the skin using gentle micro-needles. This technique allows the formula to go deeper into the skin than any cream can penetrate, causing hydration and fortification to occur at a base level. Specific treatment approach is determined on an individual basis. We combine this treatment with the Wellbox LPG machine that provides a soothing lymphatic massage to calm and revitalize the skin. Results are immediate with your face looking rested, youthful, supple and plumped up in a natural way. The skin around the jowls will tighten, wrinkles on the face and neck will be less visible, and unwanted under eye bags will minimize. And as an added bonus, this treatment will leave you completely relaxed and zen-like!*

Unlike other cosmetic injections, there is no stiffness or paralysis of nerves with this facial, and all ingredients used are non-toxic FDA approved botanical extracts. Did we mention there is no down time for recovery? We recommend an initial series of four treatments—spaced about a week apart—followed by a touch-up every six months. This treatment can be combined with acupuncture treatments currently offered at Health Pointe Jacksonville to further boost these efforts by treating you from the inside-out.

What Results Can You Expect?*

This specific treatment helps to shrink fat from under the neck, remove free radical damage, tighten loose skin and plump up sagging areas. The effects rejuvenate the face, and neck without the unnatural appearance or painful recovery of surgical alternatives. After treatment, patients commonly describe their skin as looking younger, rested, radiant, glowing and firmer. It does not take the place of a face lift, but will greatly diminish wrinkles and help to even skin tone.

Side Effects?

Minor side effects can include bleeding, bruising, swelling or itching. These are all very minor, usually subsiding in a few hours to a few days. Allergic reactions may occur with the vitamins that are in the injection, so it is important to consult with the doctor before starting treatments. With side effects that can be easily treated, it is very much worth the cost because it is a non surgical treatment that will get you looking and feeling younger.

This procedure is great for any woman who wants to reduce the look of wrinkles on the neck or face. It is simple, quick and virtually painless. With mild side effects, there is no recovery period, and results are immediate.
